It's been almost 28 years since Sheila Dilworth and her husband Norm (d. 2004) arrived in Nassa, Bulima, located on the southeast coast of Lake Victoria in Tanzania. In that time, they've raised a family of four children (three currently serving in Africa) and helped to build and grow a small theological college (NTC—Nassa Theological College) which is sending trained pastors and godly leaders across the country. Sheila is involved with one of the local churches in Bulima and she has served in a variety of roles in the community including nurse, financial planner, family counselor, teacher, banker, mechanic, chef, interpreter, farmer, hotel manager, and many more. Sheila leads a surrendered life—loving, serving and sharing Christ with the people of Bulima.

Kalman and Annamarie grew up in Hungary, and were impacted by the Gospel through the radio ministry of TWR. TWR ministers in over 160 countries and 200-plus languages worldwide including Europe, Russia, Central Asia, the Middle East, and North Africa. Today, Kalman maintains the operation of TWR's remote monitoring system, verifying that all AM and shortwave transmissions make it to the target area with a good signal. As the need arises, he travels to check the reception in a country. This was the case recently when he drove to Croatia. An upcoming project is the relocation of their remote monitoring system from Poland to Lithuania in September. Kalman and Annamarie are excited that TWR has grown to blanket most of the populated world with God's message.

The Millers attended college at ISU, then served with Community Health Evangelism in Uganda, Africa. After finishing seminary, they moved with Campus Crusade for Christ to their current field in Argentina. For 13 years, their ministry focus was college evangelism. Two years ago they transitioned to serving through a local church where Bill serves as a pastor of Evangelism, Discipleship and Missions. Debbie has a heart for discipling young women. Much of their ministry now takes place in a poor neighborhood, 12 de Mayo, where drugs, crime, violence and prostitution are rampant. One of the questions that puzzled the Millers for many years was why they originally felt called to Africa and then later to Argentina. Now the puzzle is starting to fit together as Argentina is awaking to the world mission challenge. One of their greatest satisfactions is to see young Argentines entering the mission field around the world—including Africa.

The Millers are passionate about reaching out in the community.

• Prayer Requests

- Pray for the development of spiritual leaders in the neighborhood of 12 de Mayo.
- Pray for open hearts to minister to both spiritual and physical needs following the earthquake in Chile.
- Pray for creative ways to get more Argentines on the mission field.
- Pray for Bill and Debbie's transition to an "empty nest" with two daughters soon to be studying in the States.

Leroy and Carol Goodman are faithfully serving the Lord with the Midwest Messianic Center. MMC's primary focus is assisting individuals and churches who desire to reach Jewish communities. They provide Bible studies, radio broadcasts, personal visitation, and literature distribution. Through friendship evangelism, they graciously reach out to those around them with the Gospel. MMC also provides Jewish evangelism seminars for pastors and church leaders who have a desire to learn more about how to reach the Jewish community. The Goodman's love for Jesus Christ and lost souls is clearly evident to those God puts in their paths. To read more about Leroy's conversion from a Reform Jew to a believer in Christ, go to www.midwestmessianiccenter.org/Goodman.
